VOLUME XXIX.

MT. STERLING, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1920.

NUMBER 100

John T. Woodford Passes to Eternal Rest

After weeks of lingering from organic troubles, John T. Woodford on Saturday evening yielded to the inevitable, aged 73 years. Mr. Woodford was located in this county where he engaged in farming and the breeding and training of fine saddle horses. His farm, the Woodford Stock Farm, through his efforts, has become famous the country over. Mr. Woodford comes from one of Kentucky's most gifted families and personally was the true type of the Kentucky gentleman, his hospitality was without limitation and at home or abroad he was the same honorable and correct man. By his close application to business, his relentless efforts and fair dealings with all men he had amassed a nice fortune to pass on to his kindred.

Mr. Woodford is survived by his wife and six children, Thornton, Chenault, William and Mrs. Richard Winn, of this county; Catesby and Mrs. William Gay, of Bourbon.

Mr. Woodford was a member of the Christian church and held the position of deacon.

Funeral service was conducted at the grave in Machpelah cemetery, Monday afternoon by Revs. Clyde Darsie and B. W. Trimble.

By the passing of John T. Woodford Montgomery county sustains a most grievous loss. No man was held in higher esteem than was this most honorable man and as a neighbor, friend, parent and husband he was an ideal man. In church, as in all other relations, his counsel was accepted as wise. Such men have come and gone and he leaves an imprint for good as a rich legacy to all men. Peace to his ashes.

Improvement in Service

J. M. Allen, representing the American Railway Express company, was in the city last week at the request of the Chamber of Commerce to investigate the express service at this place. Mr. Allen has agreed to arrange a schedule for this city, allowing us to ship express West on three trains, the 7:35, the 11:50 and the 4:35, and East on two trains, at 8:45 and at 12:45. Mr. Allen also agreed to have express come out of Louisville on No. 24 and brought to Lexington and then brought to Mt. Sterling the following morning. A number of other improvements have been added to the express service, which will be of great benefit to the business men here. To the Chamber of Commerce, which is accomplishing so much good for our city, the credit for this move is given.

Cox to Speak in Louisville October 8

Governor James M. Cox, Democratic candidate for President, will speak in Louisville October 8th, and a large number of party workers from this section are expected to attend. On October 7th he will speak at Elizabethtown and Bowling Green. These are the only Kentucky towns scheduled for speeches so far.

Predicts Cut in Food Cost Prices

A general reduction in food prices was predicted yesterday by Sol Westerfeldt, president of the Retail Grocers' Association, who expected only eggs and butter from what he said would be a steady decline. He said high interest on bank loans made price cutting necessary for producers to move their crops.

Mr. Westerfeldt said canned goods now being packed must be lowered in price to move it; that coffee had recently dropped 10 cents a pound and that he looked for cheaper bread because of lower flour prices. Fruit was at a minimum in some cases lower than 1914 prices, he said.

"Although it may mean loss to some producers and distributors," Mr. Westerfeldt said, "the nation as a whole will benefit and a return to normal conditions will be effected."

Death Comes To One of Our Oldest and Best

On Saturday morning at 11 o'clock after a struggle to overcome an attack of pneumonia, Mrs. Cynthia Ann Reed, wife of Garnett Reed, deceased, entered on reward. Mrs. Reed was Miss Love and was born in Cabell county, Virginia, and had lived until November 13th would have been 90 years old. She was married at her home in Virginia, June 4th, 1850 to Garnett Reed and in 1871 came to this city, where she has spent the remainder of her life. She is survived by five children, Mrs. Emma Chenault, Mrs. Jennie Robinson, Mrs. W. R. Thompson and Miss Nannie Reed, of this city, and W. W. Reed, of Seattle, Washington.

At about the age of 14 years Mrs. Reed became a member of the Baptist church in Virginia and when her husband and family moved to this city she became a member of the Mt. Sterling Baptist church. For 76 years she had been a consistent working Christian and for nearly fifty years had been a member of the Mt. Sterling church. Funeral services were held at the late home Monday morning at 10 o'clock, conducted by her pastor, Rev. R. C. Goldsmith, and remains were buried in Machpelah cemetery.

Since March, 1876 the writer has known Mrs. Reed intimately and is therefore in position to speak of her pure and useful life. We knew her as a wife loving, real helpmate. We have known her as a mother, tender, watchful, providing her children with their needs and looking to their future, and as a church member she was faithful in attendance at both Sunday school and the other times for worship. She was a constant student of the Bible, a close reader of her denominational literature and at all times could give Bible reasons as to her faith and church relations. We could pause here and to those who have known Mrs. Reed best a curtain could be lifted and on mind canopies would appear visions as she really was, the perfect Christian life. Her children loved her almost to worship, her neighbors regarded her as the best of women with sympathetic heart and willing hands to all uplifting deeds. Will this good woman, having passed the mark of almost four score years and ten, be missed? Yes, in all the walks of usefulness and more especially in the church circles, the woman's Bible class, at prayer service and regular worship. Of this saintly character we could write much and each thought with a silver lining would be the real image of her who rests in earth while the spirit abides with Him she loved. Sweet rest, blest abode to her who early chose that good part that connected her as an heir of God and joint heir with Jesus Christ.

Were a star plucked from on high
For ages would its light
Shining down from the sky
Beam on our mortal sight.

So when a good woman dies,
But ages beyond her ken;
The light she leaves behind
Shines on the paths of men.

Haggard Acquitted By Clark County Jury

Rodney Haggard was acquitted of the charge of killing Ben Good in circuit court in Winchester yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by the jury, which took the case Saturday afternoon. Haggard, who was in the court room with his wife and child, shook hands with each juror, thanking him for his verdict.

The verdict of the jury read: "We, the jury, find the defendant, Rodney Haggard, not guilty on the ground of insanity."

Mrs. Nancy Mullins Haggard and her 4-year-old daughter, Ella, appeared for the first time in the court room Monday, accompanying her husband, Rodney Haggard.

The defendant, Rodney Haggard, and his wife and 4-year-old baby, Ella, and Miss Minerva Haggard, daughter of Mr. Gordon Haggard, sat together in the court room while the jury was deliberating on the case. Mrs. Haggard looked careworn and weary.

After the verdict Haggard clasped his wife in his arms and kissed her, while the tears streamed down their faces.

Relatives of Haggard said that Mr. and Mrs. Haggard were at the home of his uncle, Gordon Haggard. They say he will build a home for his family and the reconciliation is complete.

Haggard shot and killed Ben Good in front of a restaurant on the main street of Winchester several weeks ago. In his defense he claimed that Good and his wife had been associating and that Good had weaned away her affections from him.

Shortly before the killing he had sent his wife to the home of her father, Jailer J. S. Mullins, of that city.

She had instituted proceedings for divorce, but just prior to the opening of the trial last week she withdrew this action and also made a statement denying certain allegations of cruelty in her petition for divorce.

A Fine Speech

On last Friday a large gathering of women, intermingled with men, met Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart at the courthouse. Mrs. Stewart's deliverances were thoughtful and oratorical. In the handling of her subject she showed herself a student well informed on political issues and her reasoning was both logical and convincing. She made a fine impression and according to our way of thinking her conclusions were correct. Her efforts aroused many women to the exercising of their duty at the polls. Mrs. Stewart will make speeches in and out of Kentucky until the November election, and all voters should hear her.

RALLY DAY

Next Sunday will be Rally Day at the Bible School of the Mt. Sterling Christian church. This is the occasion when it is hoped that every member of the school will be present and many new scholars will be enrolled. A program of special interest will be rendered, including the promotion exercises, which are a yearly event in this school. A big attendance and an outstanding program are anticipated.
